

Accidental loss of student contents

Cover for unexplained loss of student possessions when accommodation partner accepts liability.

Cover overview

We understand that occasionally students' valuables are misplaced as a result of packing away possessions or the end of term clean up process. We have therefore created a cover section that aims to provide additional peace of mind for contents that are accidentally lost within the accommodation.

This cover protects up to £250 of students' possessions referenced on your policy certificate following unexplained loss of student belongings after you as the student accommodation provider accepts liability.

Typical scenarios covered

University or accommodation staff accidentally lose students' possessions during end of term packing.

Key exclusions and limitations

- When liability hasn't been accepted by accommodation partner.

What is accidental loss?

Accidental loss is the unintentional misplacement of an item or items from the room in which it is insured. It means that the owner would be permanently deprived of the items' use.
